How are Provident Scholars selected?

Provident Scholars are selected based on eligibility requirements, financial need, and quality of documents submitted: resume, letter of recommendations and personal statement. All prompts are required to be covered in your personal statement. Consideration will be given to the applicant's Cook County zip code and where it falls on the Social Vulnerability Index.

What expenses are eligible to be covered by the scholarships?

Scholarships are intended to reduce financial barriers associated with higher education. Scholarship funds can be used to pay tuition and for any educational expenses deemed necessary by your school. This may include books, laptops, lab equipment, housing, and more. Scholars are required to complete an Allocation Summary detailing scholarship use with supporting documents.

How are funds disbursed?

Funds are paid directly to the educational institution and/or specified creditor(s) associated with educational expenses. Provident Scholars will be required to complete an Allocation Summary and provide supporting documents for expenses.

Are disbursements restricted to the current academic year?

Provident Scholars can elect to have expenses paid in first year or have expenses paid over the course of program.

Do Provident Scholars need to pay the scholarship back?

The scholarship is a financial award for a student to further their education and is not required to be repaid.

How and when will I be notified if I received a scholarship?

Applicants who are selected for an award will receive an email notification of the award decision. Applicants must promptly follow instructions to accept the scholarship by deadline provided. Notification of awards will be sent out starting June 30, 2023.

What are the document requirements for disbursement of scholarship funds?

- Provident Scholarship Allocation Summary
- Receipts for any expenses covered by the scholarship
- Completed Tax ID W-9 Form

What support is provided to Provident Scholars post award?

All Provident Scholars awarded will participate in the Provident Scholarship Mentorship. Provident Scholars will be matched with an experienced staff member at Cook County Health for collaborative learning experiences and personal and professional development.
